DeMossville man airlifted from accident

Pendleton County Sheriff Craig Peoples investigated a single-vehicle, injury accident at 2:06 p.m. on Thursday, November 20 on KY 17 in DeMossville. According to police reports, William Snow, 43, of DeMossville, was traveling north in a 2012 Chevrolet Silverado pickup truck when he went off the right side of the roadway. Snow overcorrected and went across the other lane striking an embankment and trees before overturning and blocking the roadway. Pendleton County EMTs and members of the Butler and Falmouth Fire departments responded to the scene. Firefighters had to extricate Snow from his truck which suffered very severe damage. The injured man was transported to Grassy Creek by ambulance and then airlifted to University of Cincinnati Medical Center. The extent of his injuries was not known as of press time. KSP announces 'Cram the Cruiser' to feed the hungry

The Kentucky State Police have kicked off their fifth annual 'Cram the Cruiser' food drive. Food collection sites have been established at all 16 posts throughout the state and at the agency's headquarters location in Frankfort. The campaign extends through Tuesday, December 16, and is designed to collect non-perishable food items for needy families.

KSP spokesman Sgt. Michael Webb said the agency collected more than 124,000 pounds of food during the 2013 campaign.

"We were so pleased with the results, hard work and effort from each of our posts and regions last year," says Webb. "It is a wonderful opportunity to give back to those in local communities who are struggling financially during the holiday season."

Tobacco use banned on state property

Kentucky ends the use of all tobacco products and e-cigarettes on executive branch state property, effective November 20 - the day of the Great American Smokeout.

Pointing to Kentucky's high rankings in smoking and cancer deaths, Governor Steve Beshear announced the tobacco-free policy September 4. Kentucky has the highest rate among all states of adult smokers and the sixth-highest rate of youth smoking. Kentucky also leads the nation in cancer deaths. One of the primary goals of Governor Beshear's kyhealthnow initiative is to reduce Kentucky's smoking rates by 10 percent by 2019.

"I am committed to reducing the exposure to unnecessary health risks in the workplace and taking the steps needed to improve the quality of life for all Kentucky citizens," said Gov. Beshear. "Smoking and breathing secondhand smoke causes disease and there is no level of exposure to secondhand smoke that is considered safe."

Kentucky is the fifth state to institute such a policy. As the largest single employer in Kentucky, the state's tobacco-free policy will affect approximately 33,000 state workers, as well as hundreds of thousands of visitors to state offices and properties.

All executive branch buildings are currently smoke-free inside. The governor's executive order transitions that policy to include all tobacco products and executive branch state property. This means no cigarettes, tobacco products, or e-cigarettes may be used in state-owned or leased buildings, in state-owned vehicles, or on state property. All state office buildings, parking lots, sidewalks, and green space on state grounds are included in the ban. Tobacco users will have to leave the property to smoke or use other tobacco products.

An implementation period was set aside for state government agencies, guided by the Personnel Cabinet and Finance and Administration Cabinet, to ready the workforce before the Nov. 20 effective date.

"Nearly 5,000 executive branch workers report they use tobacco, and their health care costs average 20 percent higher than those who do not report tobacco use," said Tim Longmeyer, Personnel Cabinet secretary and chairman of the Kentucky Group Health Insurance Board. "As a former smoker, I know it is tough to quit and that the tremendous benefits of quitting are not readily apparent to a person going through nicotine withdrawal. That's why our priority has been to make sure employees know where to turn if they, or someone they

Thanksgiving: So much to be thankful for

By Bryan Golden

Thanksgiving is much more than a big meal with family and friends. It's a time to reflect on, and be thankful for, all of the good things you have. Even with all of the uncertainty and turmoil in the world, you have so much to be thankful for. It's important to be grateful, not just on Thanksgiving, but each and every day. Rather than lamenting what you feel is lacking in your life, begin each new day by developing an attitude of gratitude. Take inventory of your blessings and you will be surprised at just how much you have to be thankful for.

If you have enough to eat, a place to live, a way to get around, people who care about you, or people you care about, then you are wealthy. If you lack any of these elements, you must still be grateful for what you do have, while striving to obtain whatever is absent.

Focus on all positive aspects of your life. Take nothing for granted. Every morning, recharge your appreciation. Be happy for everything there is, not upset over what you feel is missing.

PCHS transforms into Hogwarts School

Pendleton County High School recently celebrated "Red Ribbon Week" with five days of education, fun and activities. Red Ribbon Week is an alcohol, tobacco, drug and violence prevention awareness campaign observed annually in October in the United States. Students and faculty "magically" transformed the high school into a Harry Potter theme with the building becoming the Hogwarts School of Witchcraft and Wizardry. The hallways were color coded to the "houses" (Gryffindor, Hufflepuff, Ravenclaw, Slytherin) from the popular J.K. Rowling series of books and movies. Each grade was divided into the different houses and then students competed for points in competitions. Points were earned for attendance, discipline and participation in the Red Ribbon Week festivities. The theme days held throughout the week included Hat Day, Wacky Day, American/Camo Day, House Color Day and Halloween Dress-Up Day. Proving they're not Muggles, the Class of 2016 (juniors) were named the winners and earned the all-important bragging rights for the event. Oakland Christian hosts a "Walk Through Bethlehem"

This holiday season Oakland Christian Church invites you to take a trip with them at 149 Oakland Church Road and experience the true Spirit of Christmas. Your trip will take you on an outdoor adventure to first century Bethlehem on the night Jesus was born.

As you enter the city, allow the sights, sounds and smells to carry you to a period of time that changed the world. Journey through the heart of the city to the marketplace that is bustling with activity at authentic shops; enjoy samples from the baker's shop, marvel at the potter's crafts and listen for the rumor of a king's birth from excited townspeople. Beware of the Roman soldiers though! They are just looking for an excuse to arrest someone!

After you make your way down the market, make a stop at the Inn, and the Synagogue, and then venture on to a moonlit field where you find shepherds watching their sheep and hear angels singing. Continue your journey to the Nativity where a very special baby was born in the stable. Meet

Mary and Joseph and hear their joy expressed in song. See royally robed Magi and hear how they journeyed from far away in search of this heavenly King. Finally, your journey will end at the cross where you'll meet Nicodemus and an angel as they proclaim the "reason for the season."

Thanksgiving - shine like the stars

By Glenn Mollette

Surely all of us have something to give thanks for.

We all have problems, aches and things that we desire.

All of us have felt like we missed out on something. Everybody has a regret or two. Most of us have grumbled a bit about most everything. In the midst of it all surely we can find some way to give thanks.

A thankful spirit eases the spirit. Surely it's good for blood pressure, chest pains, anxiety and a better night's sleep.

We all have worries. We stress out about life even if the problems are small. While many have big problems others' problems are small in comparison.

Thousands of Americans are homeless. We are having temperatures in the low twenties in November. Many homeless people who I have personally talked to deal with not knowing where they will sleep or what they will eat. Many have small tents, or even try to sleep on park benches. I can't imagine.

About twenty years ago I was only about twelve months into buying a house and lost my job. The house payment was hefty plus I had two car payments, a very sick wife and two small boys. We were living paycheck to paycheck and suddenly I was on the bottom, terrified and desperate to quickly find a job. I learned at that time that the toughest time to find a job is when you desperately need one. I drove everywhere in search of a job. Prospective employers were kind suggesting that maybe later down the road they might have an opportunity. I needed something immediately. There was almost never a moment that I slept at night.

After becoming unemployed, I also felt friendless. For years prior I thought I had zillions of friends. Suddenly it seemed as if no one knew me. I felt as if I had been dropped into a bottomless chasm and nobody cared.

Suddenly I came up with a solution. I would end my life. Briefly I felt uplifted and hopeful. This would be the way out of what seemed to be no way out. I lived in a nice neighborhood at the time and decided to take a walk at 1 a.m. The sky was clear and it appeared as if every star was shining that night. It was one of those nights when I felt like I could touch each star. As I walked the neighborhood that late summer evening I was very alone without the sound of cars or children playing. It was dead silent. I could hear my heart beating in the quiet of the night. I started thinking, "I have a wonderful family who needs me. I have to be here for them. Taking my life would be a horrific act of selfishness."

I went back home and got on my knees and asked God to lead me and help me. If I ever needed a miracle from God it was then. I told God I would do anything, go anywhere.

About two weeks later a man from Indiana called me and said "Glenn, would you be interested in moving to Indiana?" Quietly I thought to myself, God, anything but Indiana! Our family pulled up, moved and it ended up being the most empowering twenty years of my life. God took care of our family in an incredible way.

Looking back twenty years ago I felt like we were just a month or two away from being homeless. It was a frightening feeling. I am sad for the thousands of Americans who do not have a place to sleep. I try to do what I can yet never feel like it's enough.

I am so grateful. I'm grateful for a warm house and comfortable bed. I'm thankful for food to eat and work that I love to do. I'm thankful for my loving wife, family and so much more.

Maybe this Thanksgiving you are having trouble being thankful. Maybe your life is in pain and you are spiraling downward into a dark chasm. My hope for you is that one night you might see the stars in their entire splendor and that your life will soon shine among them full of thanksgiving.

"Be thankful in all circumstances."

A visit to River Valley

Janice and I walked thru the garden area that leads to the main entrance of River Valley Nursing Home in Butler. Nursing homes can be depressing, but this one lifts one's spirits with its variety of flowers that bloom throughout the growing season. Interspersed among the flowers a tomato plant peeks thru as if to say, "Don't forget me, I'm here, too. I may not be as pretty, but I am good to eat. You can't eat flowers." A kitty cat scampers under the vines, imagining, I suppose, that he or she is a giant jungle tiger in Africa, hunting for its prey. When the weather is warm, several residents sit near the entrance, enjoying the beauty of the flower way.

My mind flashed back to May, 1943. Dad had moved our family to Detroit to work in the war plants, and he had just received a letter from his brother's wife who said that Grandpa Collins was nearing death. She said that if he wanted to see his Dad alive that he should come back to Elkatawa soon. We packed and left the next day via the L&N railroad passenger service. Grandpa Collins lingered a few more days and passed at 76, surrounded by his family and friends, except for one son whose whereabouts were unknown. We buried Grandpa in the family cemetery in Cy Branch.

Families were more tightly wound back then; children frequently lived in the same community or town. Not infrequently, if the family had several children, one would not marry but live with the parents and take care of them until their passing. Most frequently this child was a girl and she would be deeded the home place. It was not a perfect system, but it did provide security and a measure of comfort to the aging parents.

But things have changed: Families have scattered to the four corners of the globe. Career demands frequently push both husband and wife to extraordinary levels as the urge for things dominates our lives. Reflection and spiritual aspects of our lives are often neglected. Quality time with parents and extended family becomes less and less. (I remember gathering at Dad and Mom's front porch on Sunday afternoon and discussing politics and religion with the adults and neighbors while the children played ball in the front yard. That was quality time. Now, it seems that the younger generation can't talk because of their preoccupation with a hand held machine.)

Back to River Valley. We were looking for three persons whom we knew who were now residents. One was being attended to and was not immediately available. So, we meandered back to the foyer where probably eight to ten residents were visiting with family and friends. We stuck our heads in the community room where the DeMossville Baptist Church was preparing to have church. A prominent citizen of Pendleton County noticed us and escorted us to a seat near the front. He appeared to be a self-appointed usher and found seats for some other latecomers. When we were seated, we discovered one of the ladies we had come to see. The service was about to begin; therefore, we smiled at her and kept our seats.

I observed the residents. They appeared to be glad to have the opportunity to go to church. They nodded affirmatively as the minister strummed a guitar and sang "Amazing Grace," but nodded off, as did I, when he began to expound the Scripture. But it was a well done service, not lengthy, and residents retreated to the hallway and their rooms, a look of satisfaction on their visages.

We approached this lady who had been in the Falmouth Rotary Club and asked how she was doing. "Oh," she said, "I really like it here. I have lots of visitors and the staff treat us so good. And, you know I like to play cards and three or four of my friends are coming down to play with me soon." Her eyes brightened with the anticipated visit. Her daughter appeared from behind her and smiled also, apparently pleased that her mother had adjusted so well to River Valley.

We found another lady whom we had known for several years, and had a stimulating conversation with her about stupid things we had done when we were young. Her body is weakening slightly, but her mind and spirit appear strong and resilient. She and a couple of other ladies in the area whom we know are all approaching 100. I suggested a combined birthday party. She grinned wryly. I did not know how to interpret her expression, so I let it lie.

Janice went down the hall to find a lady who wanted some Lexington Heralds which she had saved for her, while I was finishing my conversation above. A beautiful lady with a greyhound on leash wandered into our room and we reminisced. Her dog was well-mannered and peaceful. I began to understand why some say that dogs and cats are good therapy for residents of nursing homes. I thought of the documented story of the cat in a nursing home that would go to the bed of a dying patient and curl up beside him or her in his or her last hours.

I felt strangely peaceful and pleased as Janice and I exited by the rose garden to our vehicle. River Valley is not perfect. But given our time and place, it does a very good job. It is no disgrace to put a loved one there. It is a disgrace to forget them!

Legislative perspective on Kentucky General Assembly

STATE REP. TOM MCKEE

This week, as extended family returns home and we prepare for the upcoming holiday season, I wish you a happy Thanksgiving.

We are now just seven years away from the 400th anniversary of the famous feast enjoyed by the Pilgrims and the Native Americans who helped them weather especially tough times.

Since then, our nation has regularly set aside at least a day to give thanks. In 1789, the holiday as we know it today began taking shape when President Washington called for it to be in late November. President Lincoln solidified the tradition when he declared it to be on the fourth Thursday of the month.

Our country has a lot for which to be thankful, and a big reason for that is our selfless men and women in uniform.

Since the beginning of the Revolutionary War, 42 million Americans have served our country, and more than half of those soldiers are still with us today, including 339,000 veterans who call Kentucky home. Tens of thousands more serve at Fort Knox, Fort Campbell and a number of other military installations across the Commonwealth.

Farmers are another major group who have served our nation with distinction. No other country spends a smaller percentage of their income on food, and here in the Commonwealth, there is a tremendous amount of diversity, with nearly a dozen different commodities bringing in a significant amount of money every year.

Our farmers are very charitable as well. Last month, for example, the General Assembly's Agriculture Committee, which I co-chair, heard an update on the growing Farms to Food Banks program.

I was proud to sponsor the legislation making this possible and to support the $1.2 million that legislators put in the current two-year budget to increase its access.

During the just-completed growing season, we learned last month, 365 participating farmers received more than $1,300 on average, and the crops they gave to our food banks totaled nearly three million pounds.

Another thing for which we can be thankful is our safer highways. Since 2006, traffic fatalities have declined by more than a fifth in Kentucky, and we're on track to see that trend continue this year.

There is other good news to celebrate here in Kentucky. Last year, for example, manufacturers saw their exports grow faster than all but one state and those sales now exceed $25 billion.

Unemployment was also down in all 120 counties in both August and September when compared to the same period in 2013. That marks the first time we have seen every county have a simultaneous drop.

If you're a cook looking for a break this week, or have an especially large family, our Kentucky State Parks system has good news for you: Those with resorts, including Blue Licks Battlefield, will be open from noon to 8 p.m. on Thanksgiving and will offer a full buffet, with adults costing $18.49 and children six to 12 costing $8.49. These totals include beverages but not tax, and young children eat for free.

With Thanksgiving soon to be behind us, my legislative colleagues and I will begin making final preparations to ready for the start of the 2015 Regular Session, which begins in early January and lasts for 30 legislative days.

As always, your input in this process is very much needed, and I encourage you to let me know your thoughts either now or when legislation begins to move forward. Should you want to write, my address is Room 324E, Capitol Annex, 702 Capitol Avenue, Frankfort, KY 40601. My email address is Tom.McKee@lrc.ky.gov.

You can also leave a message for me or for any legislator at 800-372-7181. For the deaf or hard of hearing, the number is 800-896-0305.

Again, I hope you and your family have a Happy Thanksgiving and a wonderful holiday season.

Thanks,
Nicki Maso

Controlling radio-reactive correspondence

By Michael Jenkins,

One of the best pieces of advice I ever got as a young pastor was this:

When something happens that causes you to blow your top and you feel that you just have to respond with an angry letter, write the letter. Next, put it in a drawer for a day or so. Then, after you've cooled down, throw it away.

People don't write many letters these days, but we really could use a "cooling off drawer" function on our computers for a lot of email. I hear the concern raised often by pastors, church members and the population at large.

The ease with which people are able to blast the virtual community with their furiously unfiltered opinions is really a problem. Someone recently said to me, "You know, pressing the 'reply all' button on my email is an ethical decision."

It is also a decision fraught with implications for the sender's reputation, especially when it comes to ministry and leadership.

Among the key indicators of a person's leadership readiness is a person's level of reactivity. Whereas some letters that were dropped into mail slots a generation ago were referred to as "radioactive" in their fallout, the level of "radioactivity" in electronic correspondence is comparatively the difference between a stick of dynamite and a nuclear bomb. And the fallout can go on for years, especially if the sender makes a habit of launching missives.

So, if we were to revise the advice some of us got back in the days when we wrought our damage with an ink pen or a typewriter so that the advice corresponds better to the way most of us communicate today via emails, texts and tweets:

When something happens that causes you to blow your top and you feel that you just have to respond with an angry reply, write it, by all means. Then hit "delete."

It might just save your reputation.

Caramelized Onion Cornbread Dressing

What You Need

2 boxes cornbread mix
2 medium chicken pieces (cooked and shredded) or 2 links mild Italian sausage, plus 1 link hot Italian sausage (casing removed and cooked)
1 can cream of mushroom soup
3-4 c chicken stock
2 medium onions (diced)
1-2 tbsp dried sage
OPTIONAL:
4-6 Tbsp butter

Directions

- Make cornbread according to package directions. Crumble.
- Once cornbread baked, preheat oven to 350 degrees. Using butter or extra virgin olive oil (I use both), saute diced onions in medium to large saucepan until dark brown.
- Pour into greased 9x13 baking dish. Add crumbled cornbread, cooked meat of choice and sage.

• In medium bowl, whisk together soup and 1c chicken broth. Pour over cornbread mixture. Toss until well combined.
• Pour remaining stock over dressing mixture, stirring until completely moistened. Bake for 30 minutes.
• Optional: Top w/ 4-6 tbsp butter during last few minutes of baking.

Official Notice

Blue Grass Energy Cooperative Corporation, with its principal office at Nicholasville, Kentucky and with its address at PO Box 990 1201 Lexington Road Nicholasville, Kentucky 40340 has filed with the Kentucky Public Service Commission in Case No. 2014-00339 an application to adjust its retail rates and charges. The need for this adjustment is due to an increase in Blue Grass Energy's expenses in the areas of wholesale power costs, depreciation, and general operating expenses. Blue Grass Energy is proposing to increase its electric rates by $2,450,474 or 2.17%.

The rates are to be filed with the Kentucky Public Service Commission on November 18, 2014 and are effective December 18, 2014. Phase two for the residential and farm rate classes will become effective approximately one year later. The rates contained in this notice are the rates proposed by Blue Grass Energy, Inc., but the Kentucky Public Service Commission may order rates to be charged that differ from these proposed rates contained in this notice. In addition, the Kentucky Public Service Commission may change the effective date.

A person may examine this application at the office of Blue Grass Energy located at 1201 Lexington Road Nicholasville, Kentucky 40340, Monday through Friday, 7:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. or at www.bgenergy.com. A person may also examine this application at the Kentucky Public Service Commission offices located at 211 Sower Boulevard, Frankfort, Kentucky, Monday through Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., or through the commission's Web site at <http://psc.ky.gov>.

Any comments regarding the application may be submitted to the Public Service Commission through its Web site, <http://psc.ky.gov>, or by mail to Public Service Commission , Post Office Box 615, Frankfort, Kentucky 40602. A person may submit a timely written request for intervention to the Public Service Commission Post Office Box 615, Frankfort, Kentucky 40602, establishing the grounds for the request including the status and interest of the party. If the Commission does not receive a written request for intervention within thirty (30) days of initial publication of the notice, the commission may take final action on the application.

Veterans seeking employment can find assistance at the Kentucky Career Center

Transitioning from one career to another can be challenging for anyone, but for some military veterans there are additional obstacles to overcome. The Kentucky Career Center offers full-time counselors and specialized services to help veterans make the leap to the civilian workforce.

"While all veterans qualify for specialized free job search assistance at Kentucky Career Centers across the state, select groups such as veterans with service-related disabilities or ones who are homeless may be at a disadvantage when seeking employment or holding a job," said Beth Brinly, deputy secretary of the Education and Workforce Development Cabinet. "The Kentucky Career Center offers targeted services to assist these veterans who need it most."

The Kentucky Career Centers receive funding from the U.S. Department of Labor (DOL) for individual case management to a select group of disadvantaged veterans that meet the need for the assistance of an individual counselor. One of those identified categories of need is a veteran with a service-connected disability.

"Veterans with a service-related disability may find looking for work or maintaining continuous employment a challenge because they may have special requirements or modifications needed to the work environment or work schedule in order to be productive employees," Brinly said. "The counselors at the career center can advocate on behalf of a job seeker and identify funding sources employers can access to provide the needed accommodations."

Another category of need is a veteran who is either currently homeless or close to homelessness. Without the security of a regular, fixed and adequate nighttime residence, these veterans face additional hardships in trying to find suitable work. Counselors at the Kentucky Career Center coordinate housing referrals and, if needed, rent and utility assistance.

"In addition, DOL identified military veterans aged 18 to 24 as eligible for enhanced services due to this population's high rate of unemployment," Brinly said. "These young veterans, some fresh from the battlefield, may have never held a civilian job and need additional guidance to ensure that they either find the right career or enroll in training that gives them the path to a new rewarding career."

The Kentucky Career Center also can assist veterans who have low incomes, do not have a high school diploma or GED or have an arrest record. Veterans are identified as needing enhanced services when they visit the career center and are routed to the appropriate counselor at that time.

"If you are a veteran in need of career assistance, please visit or call the Kentucky Career Center nearest you, Brinly said. "If you know a veteran in need of work, let them know help is just around the corner. We're honored to serve those who have so bravely served our country."

Preparing for the home heating season

The Kentucky State Fire Marshal is asking Kentuckians to be mindful of fire prevention efforts and inspect home heating appliances as cold weather settles in Kentucky this week.

"According to national statistics, heating equipment is one of the leading causes of home fires during the winter months," said Fire Marshal William Swope, director of Kentucky's Division of Fire Prevention. "It's never too early to prepare for the heating season."

The following fire safety tips from the U.S. Fire Administration can help maintain a fire-safe home this winter season:

Kerosene heaters

- Be sure your kerosene heater is in good working condition.

- Never use fuel burning appliances without proper room venting. Burning fuel can produce deadly fumes.

- Use only the fuel recommended by the manufacturer.

- Never refuel the heater while it is in operation.

- Always refuel outdoors.

- Keep young children away from space heaters.

Wood stoves/fireplaces

- Have the chimney inspected annually and cleaned, if necessary.

- Do not use flammable liquids to start or accelerate any fire.

- Keep a glass or metal screen in front of the fireplace opening to prevent embers or sparks from jumping out.

- Wood for the fireplace and wood stove should be dry, seasoned wood.

- Keep a covered metal container outside and ready to use to dispose of cooled ashes.

Furnace heating

- It is important that you have your furnace inspected to ensure that it is in good working condition.

- Leave furnace repairs to qualified specialists.

Swope said education is key to preventing fires in your home. "Make sure that everyone in your home understands fire prevention and what to do in case of a fire in your residence," he said. "Have an escape plan that shows two ways out and practice this plan with your family on a regular basis. And finally, check your smoke alarms and make sure they work."

New Pendleton County Tornado Shelter
2275 US Hwy 27 N
Falmouth, KY 41040

Sealed lump-sum bids for labor, material, and performing all work for the construction of the Pendleton Tornado Shelter project will be received by the Pendleton County Fiscal Court (hereinafter referred to as the owner) at the office of the Pendleton County Judge Executive, 233 Main St., Falmouth, KY 41040, until 1 o'clock P.M., EST Wednesday, 17 Dec. 2014, and then at said location publicly opened and read aloud thereafter. Each proposal must be enclosed in a sealed envelope bearing the title of the Project, and the name and address of the Bidder. Proposals received after 1:00 P.M. EST will be returned unopened.

The Project consists of the construction of a new, free-standing cast concrete tornado shelter located adjacent to the existing Pendleton County Emergency Operations Center. The proposed structure contains approximately 4,000 gross SF, along with associated site work, as set forth in the Construction Documents prepared by GRW, Inc.

A Pre-Bid Conference will be held on Wednesday, 10 Dec. 2014, at 1 P.M. EST, at the Pendleton County Emergency Operations Center, 2275 US Hwy 27 N, Falmouth, KY 41040. Attendance is not mandatory however it is recommended so all parties become familiar with the existing conditions.

The Contract Documents can be examined at the following locations:

Being the same property conveyed to Nadean Wolff, from Robert F. Hartman, III and Renee M. Hartman, husband and wife, by deed dated July 25, 2005 and recorded on August 11, 2005 in Deed Book 272, Page 468, Pendleton County Clerk's Office. Nadean Wolff died on December 26, 2013.

This property is being sold to produce the sum of $35,340.33 together with interest at the rate of 6.375 percent per annum from July 2, 2014 until paid; plus late charges, advances for taxes and insurance, and Plaintiff's costs herein expended, including a reasonable attorney fee in the amount of $1,700 and for any other fees expended for services performed in connection with the Defendant's default and for the purposes of protecting Plaintiff's interest in the property and its rights under the Mortgage instrument.

The property shall be sold upon the following terms and conditions:

- 1) The purchaser shall be required to pay ten percent (10%) of the purchase price on the date of the sale, to apply on the purchase price;
- 2) The balance of the purchase price shall be due and payable, in cash or certified funds, within sixty (60) days from the date of sale;
- 3) The purchaser shall be required to execute a bond, with good and sufficient surety thereon for the unpaid balance of the purchase price, said bond to bear interest at the rate of twelve percent (12%) per annum from the date of sale, until paid;
- 4) The purchaser shall have the privilege of paying all or any part of the purchase price or paying said bond before maturity by paying the balance of the principal, together with all accrued interest thereon;
- 5) The purchaser shall be required to assume and pay any and all ad valorem taxes on the subject property for the current year, and all subsequent taxes;
- 6) The subject property shall be sold free and clear of all liens and claims of any party to this action, except restrictions and easements thereon appearing of record in the Pendleton County Clerk's Office, if any;
- 7) Possession of the subject property shall be given to the purchaser upon confirmation of Commissioner's sale, and the Defendants or any persons claiming through them shall have vacated the premises by that time;
- 8) Said property shall be sold subject to:

- a. Assessments for public improvements levied against the subject property;
- b. Existing zoning ordinances, statutes, laws, or regulations;
- c. Any facts which an accurate survey or inspection of the property may disclose.

Bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms.

Non-perishable items needed for military

The American Legion Post 106 Ladies' Auxiliary has changed their name to Veteran's Support Group.

One of the programs that the group is responsible for each year is collecting items from the community to send to veterans serving overseas.

If you would like to donate items such as: deodorant, wet wipes, any non perishable items you can take them to The Falmouth Outlook office at 210 Main Street, in Falmouth and they will keep them for us.

If you have a military member serving overseas please call the group and let them know the name and address. This is just one of the many activities that the group does each year. They want to welcome new members to their organization. If you would like to become a member you can call Judy Hammond at (859) 462-3891. Dues are $20 per year. Get involved and help our serving military personnel out at the same time.

The group will be having their meeting monthly meetings at Howard's Place in Falmouth.

For more information please call the phone number printed above.

Al-Anon offers encouragement during holidays

The turkey on the kitchen counter was freshly thawed. An open refrigerator illuminated Laura McCoy's predicament. Long ago she had earned her reputation as a master chef, but in recent years Laura usually disappeared and passed out before her extended family sat down to enjoy the dinner she had prepared.

"You know," Laura said to her husband in the kitchen, "I've never cooked a turkey without drinking. I don't think I can do this sober."

The holiday season puts a spotlight on problems in personal relationships, especially when heavy drinking is part of family celebrations. Jack McCoy, pseudonym for a member of Al-Anon Family Groups and the husband of a recovering alcoholic, had found his wife standing terrified in the kitchen this holiday morning. The expression on Laura's face said it all. "I don't know how to do this," she said.

Sometimes encouragement for a recovering alcoholic can be as simple as, "You don't have to do everything perfectly." At other times, it might call for, "Would you like to have some help?" Jack McCoy's response, thanks to support from his local Al-Anon Family Group, was to help his wife find the information she wanted.

Al-Anon Family Groups are for families and friends who have been affected by someone else's drinking. Over 14,000 family groups meet every week throughout the U.S. and Canada. For meeting schedules of local groups, call 502-458-1234. For more information about Al-Anon and Alateen, go to www.al-anon.alateen.org. There are no dues or fees to attend meetings. The program is self-supporting from members' voluntary contributions and the sale of Al-Anon recovery literature.

PCHS to retire three Wildcat jerseys

The year 2005 holds very fond memories for the Pendleton County community and fans of Wildcat basketball. Those in attendance can remember the sea of red and black that took over Rupp Arena as they played in the Kentucky High School Athletic Association (KHSAA) Sweet 16. They can remember the hustle, desire and effort that the Wildcats played that season with and the times the fans left the gym with smiles on their faces.

The Wildcat Basketball program will retire the jerseys of three of the 2005 Wildcat team, Joey Verax, Tyler Mains and current Wildcat varsity coach Keaton Belcher.

The ceremony will be held on Friday, December 5 between the junior varsity and varsity game versus Scott County. Junior varsity tip-off is at 6 p.m. A reception for former players, coaches and family beginning at 6 p.m. in the Pendleton County High School cafeteria will be sponsored by the Wildcat Boys Basketball Boosters.

"We are excited to honor these three outstanding players for their accomplishments as Wildcats both individually and as part of a team," Pendleton County Athletic Director Keith Smith said.

"Keaton was a matchup nightmare for opposing coaches and was driven to be the best he could be both with Pendleton County and Belmont. Joey was a scoring machine who was a key member for the success that 2005 team had.

"Tyler was a perfect point guard for the 2005 team and was extension of coach Buddy Biggs onto the court."

Join the Wildcats and PCHS and help us give back part of the joy they brought their fans that season as we honor them.

And set your calendars for Friday, February 6 as Wildcat Basketball brings back the entire 2005 Wildcat team to honor the 10th anniversary of a 10th Region Championship.

Future Ladycat Basketball signups underway

Future Ladycat Youth Basketball sponsored by Pendleton County Recreation has begun signups for the league that will start after Christmas break and running through March depending on weather.

The league will be divided between kindergarten and 2nd graders with 3rd graders having the option of playing in this division or in the older 4th grade through 6th grade leagues. Only 6th graders who are not on the Sharp Middle School traveling team will be eligible for the league.

Cost with registration forms turned in before December 5 is $50. Cost with registration forms turned in between December 6 - December 19 is $65. Registration after December 19 is $75.

Registration forms were distributed to all elementary age girls at Northern and Southern before Thanksgiving break. They are also available at www.pendletoncounty.ky.gov by clicking on recreation/youth sports.

The forms can also be obtained at the Pendleton County Recreation Office in the Griffin Fitness Center at Pendleton County High School weekdays from 5-9 p.m. They can be turned in or picked up at the PCHS Meet the Team event starting at 6 p.m. on Tuesday, November 25.

League setup will be finalized by final registration numbers on December 19.

If you have any questions contact Keith.Smith@pendleton.kyschools.us or call 859-654-5800.

Tobacco

know, would like help quitting."

The Kentucky Employees' Health Plan, managed at the Personnel Cabinet, offers many tobacco-free resources to nearly 170,000 Kentucky teachers, state employees and retirees. Programs available to health plan members include a personal health coach, cessation classes, nicotine replacement therapies and incentives for getting healthier. These and many other resources, including Kentucky's own quit line - 1-800-QuitNow - can be found on the tobacco-free.ky.gov website.

As the policy applies to nearly 2,888 state-owned buildings and more than 26.4 million square feet, the Finance and Administration Cabinet has been working to mark the tobacco-free zones.

Temporary signs have been posted throughout the implementation period. Permanent building stickers, as well as tobacco-free signs, are placed at the driveway entrances of major executive branch buildings declaring the property tobacco-free. Key building maps have also been provided to show property lines.

Several properties have initially received a partial exemption to the policy and during the implementation period, others were granted limited exemptions.

"Under Governor Beshear's leadership the executive branch is steering the way," said Longmeyer. "I hope others are inspired to join us in protecting and improving the quality of life for more Kentuckians."

More information about the policy, as well as links to resources for quitting tobacco, is available at <http://tobacco-free.ky.gov>.

Food

Webb says the food will be distributed at post level to local shelters, churches or other organizations serving those in need. Suggested donations include canned fruit and vegetables, canned meat, macaroni and cheese, cereal, peanut butter, jelly, canned soups, chili or spaghetti sauce, brownie and cake mixes, coffee, water, powdered milk and juices.

All donations can be dropped off at any Kentucky State Police post. Visit the KSP website at kentuckystatepolice.org for a listing of the post locations at <http://www.kentuckystatepolice.org/post.htm>

to dress warmly. This special event will be held from 5:30 - 8:30 p.m. on December 6-7.

Walk

"Walk Through Bethlehem" is Oakland's "gift" to the community. Many families will take their children to see Santa Claus at the mall this year. Oakland invites you to bring them to the church where they can discover the real side of Christmas by taking a "Walk Through Bethlehem."

Prior to your tour, you will meet in the sanctuary and listen to special guest singers who are bound to stir your heart. Remember

Ladycat Basketball back in 38th District Championship mix

"Our goal is to win the 38th District Championship, get a good draw in the region and hopefully make a run in the 10th Region Tourney," declared Ladycat varsity coach Scott Collins.

And with that statement, the 2014-15 Pendleton County Ladycats go from a team that went 4-16 last year to a serious contender to bring home another district championship under Coach Collins.

Why the big change in expectations? Simply the young have experience, key players returning and a nice addition to the roster.

Isabella Hall returns for her senior season with four years of experience playing on the varsity level. Last year, she had to shoulder multiple roles on the team and can shift back to her strength of running the team, distributing the ball and being a leader on the floor.

The returners? Seniors McKayla Manor and Bailey Wanstrath. McKayla was a All-District Tournament Team member her sophomore year but sat out last year. She returns for her senior season and brings a deadly outside shot, strong defensive pressure and the experience of leading a team to a district championship after her soccer team captured their championship this year.

Bailey is a lightning quick guard that is very hard to guard as her quickness allows her to reach anywhere on the floor she wants to go. A good scorer, Bailey will be able to provide defensive pressure and a scoring punch.

The youth? Madison Wyatt, Anna Askren and Summer Secrist were middle school students who were key varsity members last season.

"We are really pleased with all of the three," coach Collins commented on his young Ladycats. "Each brings different talent to the team. A shooter, a cutter and a ball handler. We expect each to see a lot of floor time this season."

The addition? McKayla Bishop returns to Pendleton County schools where she brings 900 plus points with her. She has been playing varsity basketball for Bellevue since the 7th grade. Her mother and former Ladycat basketball player, Heather Courts Ashcraft, moved back to Pendleton County and the Ladycats were the benefactors.

Coach Collins plans on a pressing style that will call on depth and he will have that this year.

Senior Amber Blackaby will provide depth at the post position along with Nikki Mason and Sydney Tillett.

Senior Catylyne Nuckels is rehabbing an off season ACL injury and may see some time late in the season.

As coach Collins pointed out, "Last season was a rough season if you only look at the wins/losses but was a good year for teaching and working with our younger players."

Hopefully, that teaching pays dividends in 2014-15 as a third 38th District Championship is hung while coach Collins has been at the helm of Ladycat Basketball.

Ladycats basketball reunions to be held Dec. 6

It was 20 years ago when the Ladycat basketball team accomplished what no other Ladycat basketball teams have ever done. Back-to-back 38th District Championships came to Pendleton County High School.

Under Coach Julia Stiles, the 1993-94 Ladycat basketball team won the first 38th District Championship in close to 20 years.

The next season, Keith Smith took the helm, but the Ladycats had the same results as they captured the 1994-95 38th District Championship.

The 2014-15 Ladycat basketball team invites all team members, coaches and family to join with them on Saturday, December 6 during the Pendleton County versus Williamstown game to honor these two teams.

The junior varsity game will tip-off at 2:30 p.m. with a reception for all team members and families in the cafeteria. The reception sponsored by Ladycat Basketball Boosters will be held before a ceremony directly after the junior varsity game to honor and introduce members of these back-to-back championship teams.

Basic tips for preparing a Thanksgiving turkey

Whether it's your first or fiftieth time, the stress of roasting the holiday bird is enough to ruffle anyone's feathers. Set yourself up for success with two simple rules: stick to the basics and start with great quality meat.

Delicious meat comes from animals raised the way nature intended - no antibiotics or animal by-product in feed. Choose turkeys from farms that have achieved Global Animal Partnership Five-Step Animal Welfare Rating so you know your holiday bird was raised with care.

For the juiciest, most flavorful meat, start with a fresh organic turkey and layer in flavor with a simple brine or herb rub. Try a brine kit, such as one from 365 Everyday Value, and then stuff chopped herbs under the skin before roasting. If you like bronzed, crispy skin, blast your turkey with heat at the beginning or end of cooking, breast side up. Roast until your meat thermometer reads 165 degrees Fahrenheit.

Once done, let your turkey rest for 30 minutes before carving so juices redistribute. This locks in moisture and makes for smoother carving.

It's all about knowing where your turkey came from and the best way to lock in its juices and flavor.

BERLIN BAPTIST

We invite all to come and worship with our family of believers. Sunday services begin with Sunday school at 10 a.m., morning worship at 11 a.m. and Sunday night services are held at 7 p.m.

Please remember our pastor Brother Dan Black in prayer as he recovers over the next few weeks. In Brother Dan's absence we are blessed to have Brother Andrew Bishop bring the Lord's message. This past Sunday Brother Andrew's message was taken from 2 Kings 4:1-4 and titled "Are we being good stewards of God's blessings?"

BUTLER BAPTIST

Brother Daryl's message was from James 3:13-18. It is not only important what you say and how you live. How we live our life, teaches others about Jesus. We are here to help each other and not tear others down. We are to be aware of false teachings and false teachers. False teachings tear down people instead of building up people. It causes people to want glory for themselves and not God. The false teachers, teach lies. True wisdom comes from God. True wisdom is peaceful, merciful and gentle. We have to reach out to the world with the gospel and treat people with loving gentleness. We have a responsibility to never misuse true wisdom.

BUTLER METHODIST

The archery ministry finished up its 6 week session, but will be back in the spring. Thanks to all who helped make it a success.

Advent Bible study started this Sunday during the Sunday school hour. The study is the story from Mary's point of view.

The men gave out turkey boxes for Thanksgiving on Saturday.

The ladies met Friday night for their Thank Bank meeting, all bank money will be going towards the food pantry.

The Butler Thanksgiving eve service will be held at the Flour Creek Christian Church Wednesday at 7 p.m.

On November 30, we will be singing and hanging the greens.

All church family are invited to attend Will and Tori's wedding January 3.

Please pray for the Adams family in loss of Paula, the lady who came for food on Sunday, Caitlyn who is having a baby in July, Frank, Jackie Rice, Tina Bay, and Betty Bay.

CHAPEL OF PRAISE

"Pack-a-pew Sunday" was November 16. We enjoyed a wonderful spirit-filled service. We had many family members and loved ones in service with us and Sister Connie Craddock and Bro. Ed Brock tied in bringing the most people to church. They will both receive a Bible with their names on the front cover.

The morning message centered around God's salvation. Pastor Kevin preached from Acts 24. He spoke on three men that were given the invitation to surrender and follow the Lord.

Felix the governor summoned the Apostle Paul to come before him and share what he had been preaching among the people. When Felix heard about the coming judgment, he trembled with great fear. After he regained his composure, he dismissed Paul and said that he would wait for a convenient season to surrender.

There is no record in the Bible that he ever did. Most likely he died lost and undone.

We must remember, we are not guaranteed tomorrow, today is the day of salvation!

FALMOUTH BAPTIST

Bro. Cohen and Angie took some well-deserved time off last week and Bro. Mark Ketron filled in while they were away. Mark was raised at Falmouth Baptist and it's always great to have he and his family with us.

Bro. Mark's message asked, "Are you known in hell?" "Do the demons in hell know you?" As Christians we should be hells public enemy #1. To be known in hell we need to be sure of our salvation, filled with the spirit and winning souls for Christ! If you were arrested for being a Christian, would there be enough evidence in your life to convict you?

Our hearts were saddened last week by the earthly passing of Greta King, but we rejoice knowing that she is in heaven with Christ. Please keep Jim and the rest of her family in your prayers.

FALMOUTH CHRISTIAN

Brother Rick's message was from II Corinthians 9:6-15 titled, "The cheerful giver."

What have you done for God lately? Do you give back to God his portion. They that gives sparingly will reap sparingly. They that gives generously will reap generously. Everyone must make up their own mind as to how much they should give. Don't force anyone to give more that they really want to, for cheerful givers are the ones God prizes. Thank God for His Son - His gift too wonderful for words.

Pray for those who have lost love ones, the sick, the lost, and pray our country becomes a Christian nation.

Thank God this Thanksgiving for all the blessings He gives every day.

Go to church Sunday, God would love to see you there.

FALMOUTH WESLEYAN

Pastor Nick's message Sunday morning taught us that it's good to desire to be great. From Hebrews 2:5-13 we understand our desire to be great is from God. We were given glory and honor; control of everything, but lost it all in sin. The Way to greatness is by following Christ in order to retain that glory and honor lost in the fall. The fulfillment of our desires is found in salvation. Not the experience of coming to Christ, but the every day lifestyle of godliness. Sadly, many regret the unfulfilled life they have lived. They never put their faith in Jesus. The good news is it's never too late to receive Jesus, and be great!

Come worship our great God and Savior Jesus Christ! Sundays: Sunday School: ages 2 years - adult 10 a.m.; worship 11 a.m.; evening 6 p.m.; Wednesday evening Bible study 6:30 p.m.; Thursday evening Communion and Prayer service 7 p.m.

FIRST BAPTIST

Blessings to all! Abram Crozier brought us special music this Sunday. Bro. Harry's message, "Let Not Your Heart Be Troubled," was taken from John. Sometimes we tend to dwell on our troubles, when we need to consider all the blessings we have received. During the darkest parts of our lives, our Lord is with us. We need to stand on the word of God and depend on His Power! Our lives are not over when we die, someday we will stand before the Throne of God.

Pray for the lost, those who are sick, and those who have lost loved ones. With the up coming holidays, remember our military who are on foreign soil fighting for our freedoms.

"The ultimate test of faith is not how loudly you praise God in happy times, but how deeply you trust Him in dark times!"

HARVEST COMMUNITY

Bro. Damian's morning message was based on scripture text of Colossians 2:6-7, titled "Overflowing with Thankfulness." When you feel down, you may find it difficult to give thanks. Take heart in all things God works for our good if we love him and are called according to his purpose. Thank God, not for your problems, but for the strength He is building in you through the difficult experiences of your life. You can be sure that God's perfect love will see you through.

Prayer concerns: Debbie Allen, Jonathon Carr, David Dawson, Isabello O'Hara, Pat

"Let your lives overflow with thanksgiving for all he has done.."

~ Colossians 2:7

Ray, Teresa Rick, Katie Chapman, Rodney Pollard and the family of Greta King.

We invite you to worship with us at 111 E. Shelby St. Bible study 9:30 a.m. Sunday; worship services 10:30 a.m. and 6 p.m. Sunday and 6 p.m. Wednesday; and youth group 6 p.m. Sunday and Wednesday.

Wishing everyone a safe and Happy Thanksgiving.

MORGAN CHRISTIAN

Dawn Wood assisted with Children's Moment. Each child participated in the parade of shoe boxes bringing each box to the church front for Operation Christmas Child. Kathie then prayed asking God to bless each child that received a box. We have 65 boxes that will be delivered to Butler Baptist Church Monday morning. Many thanks to everyone that made a shoebox.

Fred Williams, our speaker for morning worship, spoke about redemption. Sometimes we think we have gotten so far off course, or have neglected our faith that God has given up on us. Fred told us you can always be redeemed if you repent and accept God in your heart.

Fellowship Thanksgiving dinner was enjoyed by all immediately after worship.

Sunday evening young couples Bible study continues. All young couples are welcome to come.

Wednesday night November 19, will be our last Bible study in 2014 but will resume in January.

Don't complain about growing old. Some people don't have that privilege!

MT. MORIAH

David Lovelace read beautiful scripture from Psalms 100. We really had a treat when Brother Darrell sung "What a day that will be". His message followed regarding being thankful in all things. If we could all just stop during every situation we face and be thankful, it does make things easier, no matter what you are going through. There are always things to be thankful for. I Thessalonians 5:18 says - give thanks in all circumstances; for this is God's will for you in Christ Jesus.

We added many to our prayer list this week, Linda and Charles Tackett and their family, Paige Hutchinson, the family of Samantha Blackburn, Cindy Tackett and her family.

We are really having a great time at group Bible study, Wednesday nights at 7, all are welcome. Sunday school at 10 a.m. service at 10:45. Please join us.

NEW HOPE

Proverbs 30:7-9 "Two things I ask of you O Lord; do not refuse me before I die; Keep falsehood and lies far from me; give me neither poverty nor riches, but give me only my daily bread. Otherwise, I may have too much and disown you and say, 'Who is the Lord?' Or I may become poor and steal, and so dishonor the name of my God."

While we are suppose to be grateful for all that God gave us, sometimes Christmas and Thanksgiving reminds us of everything that we do not have and makes us greedy and envious. May this Proverb remind us to be grateful for what God has given us and to ask only for our needs and not our wants. May we be satisfied with the blessings that God has given us.

NEW ZION

Come join us for worship and Christian fellowship. Sunday school begins at 10 a.m., morning worship is at 11 a.m. and evening worship starts at 6:30 p.m. The CrossFire Crew and Bible study group meet on Wednesdays at 6 p.m.

Upcoming Opportunities: December 6, we will meet at 4 p.m. for a trip to the Festival of Lights. December 12, The CrossFire Crew (past and present) will have a reunion party at 6 p.m. December 14, there will be a Christmas program during the morning worship service.

Romans 12:5 (So we, being many, are one body in Christ, and every one members one of another.)

Please remember in prayer Janet Bishop, John Thomas, Gay Wynn, Carolyn Bain, Sue Buckner, Larry Littleton, Sue McFarlan, Gracie Hurst, David Lucas, Terry Morris and the King and Northcutt Families. Also remember to pray for our country and its leaders.

OAKLAND CHRISTIAN

It's always a blessing to go to church. A special treat was having message in song by Gary Holmes, Kenny Courtney, and Timmy Cummins (Alice was also present). The morning message reminded us to give God our eyes. We are to accept each other as Christ has accepted us. Then God will be glorified.

Choir practice for the Christmas season is each Sunday evening at 5:30 p.m.

Preparations are in the making for "Walk Through Bethlehem" (weather permitting), December 6 and 7, 5:30-8:30 p.m. Come visit our "city." Special music will be inside the church as you await your tour. Come anytime during those hours.

Our sympathy to loved ones of Greta King. Other prayer concerns include Rose-Mary Ramsey, Gary Figgins, Margie Logan, Teresa Rick, Flora Lena McClanahan, Lenora Wiggins, Phil Wiggins, Lowell Thomas, Keyvin and Brandon Taylor, Barbara Singer, our students, cancer issues, shut-ins, armed forces, and our leaders.

PLEASANT RIDGE

Happy Birthday Ron Shay. Bro. Rick's message was from Luke 11:1-4.

The Lord's Prayer is scripture that brings glory to Him when we use it. The disciples asked Jesus to teach them to pray. Jesus wanted to give his followers a model to follow.

Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil: For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, forever and ever. Amen.

The first half of this prayer is for God's glory and the second half deals with our needs as believers. This captures everything we need to know about prayer. Prayer is not to be selfish. Forgiveness of sin is the greatest need of our heart. We are to forgive others also.

Your Father knows exactly what you need even before you ask Him!

Evening Bible Study 6 p.m.

PINE GROVE

Brother Ron's message was centered on the need for evangelism realizing Jesus died on the cross for salvation for all. Jesus gives us courage to spread Christianity as we go about our everyday lives. It seems that Christianity is waning in our nation as other religions grow.

Our district superintendent, Reverend Owen Dolin, conducted our annual charge conference on Sunday afternoon. It was a pleasant meeting as we made plans for the coming year.

The U.M.W. will meet at the home of Flo McDonald on November 19 at 6 p.m. Phyllis Kelsch will tell of her recent mission trip to the Dominican Republic.

December 6, at 6 p.m., we will have a movie night along with food geared toward our youth.

As we move into the holiday season, let's remember the true meaning, giving thanks for our brave settlers and the birth of Christ.

May God's blessings and our prayers make this a joyful season.

TRINITY

Give thanks with a grateful heart! This is such a beautiful chorus and fitting for November. As we prepare for our 29th Thanksgiving dinner, we give thanks to God for using our church as an instrument of love to reach out with a wonderful meal, prayer and a warm smile.

For those who are unaware of our community dinner, we come together on Thanksgiving Day and provide meals to those in our community who are shut-in, elderly, rest home residents, community service workers, those who are alone, etc. These meals are delivered to your doorstep. For those who are able, join the workers for a feast at our fellowship hall. Serving line starts around 11 a.m. for those eating in.

Remember when calling in orders to give good directions and a phone number in case we need to return a call. All meals are uniformed; there are no special requests possible on deliveries. No requests after 9 a.m. Thanksgiving Day.

Carbon monoxide safety

Carbon monoxide (CO) poisoning can sneak up on you. And it can be fatal. This is why it's important to follow safety guidelines when using fuel-burning appliances indoors, especially during weather-related power outages.

CO is a colorless, odorless, poisonous gas produced by the incomplete burning of any solid, liquid or gaseous fuel. The initial symptoms of CO poisoning are similar to the flu, but without the fever. They include headache, fatigue, irregular breathing, nausea and dizziness. If these symptoms are mistaken for the flu, it can sometimes result in a tragic death.

It is especially toxic to mother and child during pregnancy, infants, the elderly, and people with blood, respiratory or other circulatory system problems such as anemia or heart disease.

Nearly 300 people die each year from CO produced by fuel-burning appliances such as furnaces, ranges, water heaters and room heaters. Another 10,000 people are treated for CO poisoning in hospital emergency rooms, according to the Consumer Products Safety Commission.

Your first line of defense against CO is to be sure all fuel-burning appliances have been properly installed and correctly operate. Have your home heating systems,

Signs of serious teen stress

Stress is something that everyone deals with at some point in their lives, including teenagers. Adolescence can be a difficult time of growth and self discovery for most people. Teens not only develop stress from biological changes that their bodies are going through, but they develop stress from many things around them. Teens can experience stress as a result of family, peers, society, the media, school and even themselves.

Not all stress is bad. Stress that comes from things like winning a close ball game or receiving a good grade can actually motivate and bring about a sense of excitement for a teen. Positive stress associated with project deadlines or exams can even make a young person work harder and think clearer.

However, prolonged and intense stress can have troubling effects on a young person's emotional and physical well being, causing them to feel tired, anxious or even depressed. Stress overload lowers the body's immune system, thus making it more susceptible to illness or other health issues. Youths, their peers and parents should look for and try to control and prevent this type of stress.

Some signs and symptoms of serious stress that you should look for in a teen include:

- Feels edgy, guilty, or depressed
- Laughs or cries over small things or for no reason.
- Has a negative outlook on most things in life.
- No longer enjoys activities they once did
- Expresses anger towards others.
- Has headaches, stomachaches, trouble concentrating, thinking clearly, remembering, or stays tired.

Learning to cope with stress should begin at childhood. Parents can help their children learn to cope by modeling positive stress management techniques as well as having a positive attitudes and outlooks. It is never too late to begin these techniques to help your teen positively manage stress.

Management techniques are essential to successfully coping with stress. Some effective ways to manage teen stress include exercise, planning ahead, talking out problems and feelings, relaxing and setting reasonable goals and expectations. There are also many ways to effectively reduce stress that make your teen happy and relaxed including exercise, eating balanced, healthy meals and taking part in hobbies. For more information on ways to reduce and prevent teen stress, contact the Pendleton County Cooperative Extension Service.

Holiday stain removal tips

Hectic holiday schedules make it easy to miss a stain on a favorite outfit or tie until you get it out to wear to a special occasion.

Fresh stains are easier to remove than old ones so check your clothing and accessories as soon as you get home from an event. When you find a stain, read and follow the care label instructions. If you take clothing to the dry cleaner, point out the stain location and its source, such as red wine, chocolate and so forth, if you know it.

Dry cleaning is the safest, best treatment for necktie stains. If you know when the spill occurs, simply blot the spot with an absorbent towel or tissue. Don't try to clean the spot with the first available liquid.

When it's okay to remove the stain at home, be sure to use products formulated for stain removal.

Here are some stain removal tips from the Soap and Detergent Association.

Since you can set some stains with the wrong removal treatment, try to find out what the stain is. If the item is washable, but you're not sure of the stain source, rinse or soak the item in cold water before applying a stain remover or laundering it.

Some common methods to pre-treat tough problems are using a pre-wash stain remover, or applying and gently rubbing in a liquid detergent or granular detergent-water paste.

Soaking can effectively loosen heavy soils. Separate white items from colors. Also separately soak colors that might bleed, or put them with like-colored fabrics. Presoaking directions generally recommend 30 minutes or longer in cool or warm water.

If your washer has a pre-wash cycle, consider this stain removal technique; it takes less time than soaking. Use a pre-soak product, detergent, and/or other laundry additive during this cycle.

Always check clothing to be sure the stain is completely removed before putting the item in a dryer, or ironing it, because heat can permanently bake in the stain.

Be patient, you might have to repeat a treatment several times to completely remove a stain.

You will be most successful at home removal by using techniques recommended for the type of stain. Here are removal tips for some common stains on clothing and accessories that do not require dry cleaning.

To remove beverages such as coffee, tea, soft drinks, wine and alcoholic beverages, sponge or soak the stain in cool water. Before laundering, pre-treat with a stain remover, liquid laundry detergent or a granular detergent-water paste. Launder using whatever type bleach is recommended for the clothing.

Older stains might respond better to pre-treating or soaking in an enzyme product prior to laundering.

To determine if a treatment will harm a fabric or color, put a small amount of the recommended stain remover on a hidden part of the clothing or accessory, such as a clipping from the seam allowance. Rinse and let it dry. If the color or fabric isn't damaged, proceed with the suggested treatment.

Treat or pre-wash in warm water and an enzyme-containing product or use a pre-wash stain remover to eliminate chocolate; then, launder. If the stain remains, wash again with a bleach safe for the fabric.

When you discover a cosmetic stain, treat it with a pre-wash remover, liquid laundry detergent or granular detergent-water paste. Afterwards, launder it.

Around the home, candle wax and tree sap are common stains around the holidays.

To remove dripped candle wax, use a dull knife to scrape it off the surface of the tablecloth, placemats or other fabric surface. Afterwards, put several layers of clean paper towels below and on top of the stain; press with a warm iron from the back of the fabric to transfer wax onto the paper towels. Repeat this process, and change paper towels often until they no longer absorb wax.

Next, put the stained item face down on clean paper towels and sponge with a pre-wash stain remover. Then, launder it with detergent, and water that's hot as possible without damaging the fabric. If any stain remains, wash again with a bleach that's safe for the fabric.

To remove pine resin from carpeting, use a white towel to sponge a few drops of non-flammable, dry cleaning fluid into the stain. Continue to blot the stain until the towel no longer can pick up sap residue. If the dry cleaning fluid doesn't work, try amylacetate, using the same removal method. An alternative to these two products is a solution of one-fourth teaspoon of mild dishwashing detergent and one cup of lukewarm water. Using a white cloth, apply a small amount of this solution to the stain and blot. Rinse by blotting with cold water until the detergent residue is completely removed; then, blot with a dry towel to dry the area.

Never use a laundry detergent to try to remove the resin because the product might contain optical brighteners-bleaching agents that could damage the color.

If your home stain removal techniques don't work, it might be necessary to consult a professional carpet cleaner.

Enjoy the holidays without the weight gain

On average, Americans gain weight during the holiday season. While the weight gain may not be dramatic, research shows it tends to stick and accumulate over the years. But you don't have to succumb to this progression, say experts.

"There are strategic steps to avoid holiday weight gain while still enjoying friends, family and holiday feasts," says Sonya Angelone, registered dietitian nutritionist and Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics spokesperson.

In preparation for a big holiday party or feast, do not skip meals throughout the day. This may result in overeating later.

"It is especially important to eat breakfast," says Angelone. "High-fiber and high-protein foods like oatmeal and milk with fruit, an egg and spinach on whole wheat toast, Greek yogurt with nuts, or nut butter on a whole-wheat English muffin will satisfy hunger without a lot of calories."

Holiday meals tend to be large or buffet-style and include second and third helpings. While most people wouldn't consider eating an entire cake, a common mistake is eating large portions of foods that are perceived as healthful.

To avoid overeating, use a smaller plate. It will encourage proper portion sizes. Also, start by filling your plate with vegetables and salad before going to the entrees and desserts. Research shows eating a salad before your meal can help you eat fewer calories overall. Eat slowly and savor every bite. Before you go back for seconds, wait 10 minutes to see if you really are still hungry.

Including nutrient-rich foods in your diet is great, just remember that these foods have calories too, which should be taken into consideration with your whole eating plan. "And be mindful of alcohol consumption. Drink more water throughout a party to quench your thirst and help keep the cocktails to one or two," says Angelone.

Remember to include at least 30 minutes of physical activity into your day to promote health during the holidays -- and be sure to involve the whole family.

Having healthful eating and exercise plans for holiday meals will help ensure success throughout the season and all year long.

Grandma's homemade dinner rolls by The Amish Cook

By Dorcas Raber

Hello everyone from our home to yours! It's a very November-ish day: cool, cloudy and gray. It's a perfect day to stay inside and sip on a cup of coffee as I write. I am Dorcas Raber, mother of Gloria Yoder. I will be filling in for her as she rests and cares for their brand new son, Austin. He is a cute little baby, and so far he has been quiet and content for the most part. I am tickled to live next door and see him often! I am sure Gloria will fill you in with more details of their baby. Julia enjoys being a big sister and is mama's helper with running errands, etc. Twenty five years ago Gloria was the tiny little baby and, yes, she was so cute with lots of dark hair. I was a delighted mother and didn't realize at that time how fast time would go. Almost before I knew it my little girlie grew up and married and now I'm a grandma. I truly am "49 and holding." I've enjoyed the 40s and wonder what the 50s will hold? My husband, David, and I are blessed with 7 children; Javin, 26, is married to Regina and they have 2 sons, Japheth and Josiah. Next is Gloria and Daniel with their two children. Micah, 21, is married to Rose and they have a six week old baby girl, name Jeanette.

The children still living at home with us yet are Jeriah, 19; Mary Grace is 16, Anna Faith is 13, and Keturah is 8. Gloria had mentioned in one of her articles about Charity and Rebekah, our two stillborn angel daughters who are forever safe in Heaven. I find comfort knowing they are perfectly taken care of and are "just a step ahead of us." David and son Jeriah have a logging business plus we have three 500 foot turkey barns. Sometimes we butcher cull turkeys and there are various ways to enjoy the meat. Recently I cut up turkey meat into small chunks then soaked it in a brine of water, brown sugar, black pepper, and hickory flavored liquid smoke. After it had soaked for several days in a cold place I drained off the brine and canned the chunks. It's delicious. It actually gives the turkey meat a ham flavor. I also used the same procedure for venison chunks recently in hopes it would hide the "wild game flavor." After son Javin tasted it he told me its good but he still tastes some deer. SIGH. Daughter-in-law Rose also has a birthday today. I am cooking up a storm today for a birthday meal for the whole family tonight. The table has been lengthened and will be set with plates that have a picture of a horse and the words "Home Sweet Home." I collect dishes with the "Home Sweet Home" words on them. I like the design and it just fits a grandma's kitchen. For the meal we will be having chicken, mashed potatoes and gravy, pinto beans with bacon and onion, tossed salad, jello and with a creamy topping, cake and homemade strawberry ice cream. Daughter-in-law Regina will make the cake. I might get an urge to bake dinner rolls yet. My Mom makes such good dinner rolls. She rolls out the dough in a circle and cuts it into pieces (like pie pieces) then she rolls up each piece starting at the wide end. Very attractive! My Mom lives in Ohio and is an exceptionally good cook. She likes to make the food look attractive (as well as taste good!) I love to sit at her table, set with elegant looking clear plates with a design and enjoy her cooking. If there's a whole crowd of us then she's practical and we get our food cafeteria style and use styrofoam plates. I'd like to share her dinner roll recipe with you.

Ingredients:

- 1/3 cup white sugar
- 1/3 cup brown sugar
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 1/4 cup flour
- 1 cup boiling water
- 2 cups cold water
- 2 tablespoons yeast
- 8 cups flour (6 cups white, 2 cups wheat)
- 3/4 cups cooking oil

Directions:

Mix sugars, salt, and flour. Pour boiling water over mixture and stir well. Add cold water and yeast. Add flour gradually, then add oil. Let rise. Punch down and divide dough into 4 sections. Roll out each section in a circle and cup pie style. Roll up each piece starting at the wide end and place on greased cookie sheets. Let rise again. Bake at 350° till done. Bottoms will be slightly golden.

NOTICE

Please take notice that Duke Energy Kentucky, Inc. has applied to the Kentucky Public Service Commission for approval to revise its Demand Side Management (DSM) rate for electric service and gas service for residential and commercial customers. Duke Energy Kentucky's current monthly DSM rate for residential gas customers is $0.054918 per hundred cubic feet and for non-residential gas customers is $0.000000 per hundred cubic feet. Duke Energy Kentucky's current monthly DSM rate for residential electric customers is $0.003062 per kilowatt-hour and for non-residential customers is $0.001128 per kilowatt-hour for distribution service and $0.000848 per kilowatt-hour for transmission service.

Duke Energy Kentucky seeks approval to revise these rates as follows: Duke Energy Kentucky's monthly DSM rate for residential gas customers would increase to $0.111800 per hundred cubic feet and for non-residential gas customers would remain at $0.000000 per hundred cubic feet. Duke Energy Kentucky's monthly DSM rate for residential electric customers would increase to $0.004652 per kilowatt-hour and for non-residential customers would increase to $0.001654 per kilowatt-hour for distribution service and would decrease to $0.000161 per kilowatt-hour for transmission service.

The rate contained in this notice is the rate proposed by Duke Energy Kentucky. However, the Public Service Commission may order a rate to be charged that differs from this proposed rate. Such action may result in a rate for consumers other than the rate in this notice. The foregoing rates reflect a proposed increase in electric revenues of approximately $1.83 million or 0.54% over current total electric revenues and an increase of $3.62 million or 3.08% over current gas revenues.

A typical residential gas customer using 70 ccf in a month will see an increase of $3.98 or 4.77%. A typical residential electric customer using 1000 kWh in a month will see an increase of $1.59 or 1.80%. A typical non-residential electric customer using 40 kilowatts and 14,000 kWh will see an increase of $7.37 or 0.62%. Non-residential gas customers and non-residential electric customers served at transmission voltage will see no change in their bills from this application.

Any corporation, association, body politic or person may by motion within thirty (30) days after publication or mailing of notice of the proposed rate changes, submit a written request to intervene to the Public Service Commission, 211 Sower Boulevard, P.O. Box 615, Frankfort, Kentucky 40602, and shall set forth the grounds for the request including the status and interest of the party. The intervention may be granted beyond the thirty (30) day period for good cause shown. Written comments regarding the proposed rate may be submitted to the Public Service Commission by mail or through the Public Service Commission's website. A copy of this application filed with the Public Service Commission is available for public inspection at Duke Energy Kentucky's office at 4580 Olympic Boulevard, Erlanger, Kentucky 41018 and on its website at <http://www.duke-energy.com>. This filing and any other related documents can be found on the Public Service Commission's website at <http://psc.ky.gov>.

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that, in a November 26, 2014 Application, Kentucky Utilities Company is seeking approval by the Public Service Commission of an adjustment of electric rates and charges proposed to become effective on and after January 1, 2015.

Standard Rider for Excess Facilities – Rider EF

Customer shall pay for excess facilities by:	Current	Proposed
(a) Making a monthly Excess Facilities charge payment equal to the installed cost of the excess facilities times the following percentage:
Percentage with No Contribution-in-Aid-of-Construction	1.24%	1.24%
(b) Making a one-time Contribution-in-Aid-of-Construction equal to the installed cost of the excess facilities plus a monthly Excess Facilities Charge payment equal to the installed cost of the excess facilities times the following percentage:
Percentage with Contribution-in-Aid-of-Construction	0.48%	0.48%

Net Metering Service – Rate NMS

Company proposes text changes to the definition of "Billing Period Credit" to clarify that such a credit is a kWh-denominated electricity credit only, not a monetary credit. Company further proposes text changes to the Metering and Billing section to clarify how the Company accounts for billing period credits for customers taking service under time-of-day rates.

Standard Rider for Redundant Capacity Charge – Rider RC

	Current (Per kW/kVA)	Proposed (Per kW/kVA)
Capacity Reservation Charge per Month:
Secondary Distribution	$1.49	$1.12
Primary Distribution	$1.25	$1.11

Standard Rider for Supplemental or Standby Service – Rider SS

	Current (Per kW/kVA)	Proposed (Per kW/kVA)
Contract Demand per month:
Secondary	$12.54	$12.84
Primary	$11.99	$11.63
Transmission	$10.84	$10.58

Also, Company proposes text changes to the Minimum Charge provision to clarify that for a Rider SS customer, Company will bill the customer monthly for all of the charges under the customer's applicable rate schedule, including, but not limited to, the applicable basic service charge, energy charges, and adjustment clauses. In addition to those charges, Company will bill the customer monthly a demand charge that is the greater of: (1) the customer's total demand charge calculated under the applicable rate schedule; or (2) the demand charge calculated using the applicable demand rate shown above applied to the Contract Demand.

Temporary and/or Seasonal Electric Service - Rider TS

Availability of Service:

Current: This rider is available at the option of the Customer where Customer's business does not require permanent installation of Company's facilities and is of such nature to require:

- only seasonal service or temporary service, including service provided for construction of residences or commercial buildings, and where in the judgment of Company the local and system electrical facility capacities are adequate to serve the load without impairment of service to other customers; or
- where Customer has need for temporary use of Company facilities and Company has facilities it is willing to provide.

This service is available for not less than one (1) month (approximately 30 days), but when service is used longer than one (1) month, any fraction of a month's use will be prorated for billing purposes.

Proposed: This rider is available at the option of Company where:

- Customer's business does not require permanent installation of Company's facilities excluding service provided for construction of permanent delivery points for residences and commercial buildings, and is of such nature to require only seasonal service or temporary service; or
 - the service is over 50 kW, provided for construction purposes, and where in the judgment of Company the local and system electrical facility capacities are adequate to serve the load without impairment of service to other customers; or
 - where Customer has need for temporary intermittent use of Company facilities and Company has facilities it is willing to provide Customer for installation and operational testing of Customer's equipment.
- This service is available for not less than one (1) month (approximately thirty (30) days), but when service is used longer than one (1) month, any fraction of a month's use will be prorated for billing purposes. Where this service is provided under 2 or 3 above, Company will determine the term of service, which shall not exceed one (1) year.

Standard Rate for Low Emission Vehicle Service – Rate LEV

Current
Basic Service Charge per Month:	$10.75
Energy Charge per kWh:
Off-Peak Hours	$0.05587
Intermediate Hours	$0.07763
Peak Hours	$0.14297

Proposed – This rate schedule is proposed to be eliminated. The Company will make all reasonable efforts to contact Rate LEV customers to advise them of their new rate options after the Commission approves the new rates but before they take effect (at which time Rate LEV will terminate). Because Rate RTOD-Energy is the new rate most similar to Rate LEV, the Company will automatically transfer to Rate RTOD-Energy all Rate LEV customers who have not responded to the Company's outreach efforts by the effective date of the new rates; however, the Company will continue to make reasonable efforts to obtain those customers' input even after the rate change.

Economic Development Rider – Rider EDR

Company proposes changes to Rider EDR's Terms and Conditions to: (1) clarify the minimum demand required for the rider to be available to customer; (2) increase the range of certifications that can make a customer eligible for Rider EDR to include the Kentucky Business Investment Program (KBI), or the Kentucky Industrial Revitalization Act (KIRA), or the Kentucky Jobs Retention Act (KJRA), or other comparable programs approved by the Commonwealth of Kentucky; and (3) clarify that no credit under EDR will be calculated or applied to a customer's billing in any billing month in which the customer's metered load is less than the load required to be eligible for either Brownfield Development or Economic Development.

For Customers Served Under General Service Rate GS:	$220.00

For all other Customers not classified herein, the deposit will be no more than 2/12 of Customer's actual or estimated annual bill where bills are rendered monthly.

Proposed Rate:

For Customers Served Under Residential Service Rates RS, RTOD-Energy, and RTOD-Demand:	$160.00
For Customers Served Under General Service Rate GS:	$240.00

For all other Customers not classified herein, the deposit will be no more than 2/12 of Customer's actual or estimated annual bill where bills are rendered monthly.

Terms and Conditions – Customer Responsibilities

Adding the following provision that could result in a charge to certain customers:

Changes in Service

Where Customer is receiving service and desires relocation or change in facilities not supported by additional load, Customer is responsible for the cost of the relocation or change in facilities through a Non-Refundable Advance.

Terms and Conditions – Budget Payment Plan

Current:

Company's Budget Payment Plan is available to any residential customer or general service customer. Under this plan, a customer may elect to pay, each billing period, a budgeted amount in lieu of billings for actual usage. A customer may enroll in the plan at any time.

Proposed:

Company's Budget Payment Plan is available to any residential customer served under Residential Service Rate RS or any general service customer served under General Service Rate GS. If a residential customer, who is currently served under Residential Service Rate RS and is currently enrolled in the Budget Payment Plan, elects to take service under Residential Time-of-Day Energy Service Rate RTOD-Energy or Residential Time-of-Day Demand Service Rate RTOD-Demand, such customer would be removed from the Budget Payment Plan and restored to regular billing. Under this plan, a customer may elect to pay, each billing period, a budgeted amount in lieu of billings for actual usage. A customer may enroll in the plan at any time.

Kentucky Utilities Company also proposes to change the text of the following electric tariffs: Residential Service Rate RS, General Service Rate GS, All Electric School Rate AES, Time-of-Day Primary Service Rate TODP, Retail Transmission Service Rate RTS, Lighting Service Rate LS, Restricted Lighting Service Rate RLS, Special Charges, Curtailable Service Rider CSR10, Curtailable Service Rider CSR30, Net Metering Service Rate NMS, Supplemental or Standby Service Rider SS, Temporary and/or Seasonal Service Rider TS, Economic Development Rider, Low Emission Vehicle Service Rate LEV, Demand Side Management Cost Recovery Mechanism DSM, Environmental Cost Recovery Surcharge ECR, and the Terms and Conditions.

Changes to the Terms and Conditions include the addition of a section on Company as a Federal Contractor, meter placement, proposed clarifications on terms and conditions specific to residential electric service, and expanded options for the Company to provide written notice for discontinuance of service due to nonpayment or non-compliance.

Complete copies of the proposed tariffs containing text changes and proposed rates may be obtained by contacting Edwin R. Staton, Kentucky Utilities Company at 220 West Main Street, Louisville, Kentucky, 502-627-4314, or visiting Kentucky Utilities Company's website at www.lge-ku.com.

The foregoing rates reflect a proposed annual increase in revenues of approximately 9.6% to Kentucky Utilities Company.

The estimated amount of the annual change and the average monthly bill to which the proposed electric rates will apply for each electric customer class is as follows:

Electric Rate Class	Average Monthly Usage (kWh)	Annual $ Increase	Annual % Increase	Monthly Bill $ Increase	Monthly Bill % Increase

The rates contained in this notice are the rates proposed by Kentucky Utilities Company; however, the Public Service Commission may order rates to be charged that differ from the proposed rates contained in this notice.

Notice is further given that any corporation, association, body politic or person with a substantial interest in the matter may by written request, within thirty (30) days after publication of the notice of the proposed rate changes, request to intervene. The request shall be submitted to the Public Service Commission, P. O. Box 615, Frankfort, Kentucky 40602, and shall set forth the grounds for the request, including the status and interest of the party. Intervention may be granted beyond the thirty (30) day period for good cause shown, however, if the Commission does not receive a written request for intervention within thirty (30) days of initial publication, the Commission may take final action on the application.
